

Actuarial Model Developer

Product Development & Pricing

- Product Development
- Hlavní město Praha
- Vysokoškolské/ universitní

Job purpose

Employee participates on part of development of calculations part in applications used by sales. Job includes analysis of business requirements, development and testing of applications.

What will you do?

- Knowledge transfer of VP/MS software.
- Participation in pricing of new products
- Development of new products and/or new features of existing products in new application used by sales.
- Participation on testing of new sales application and other applications.
- Updating of VP/MS model documentation.
- Review of coding in actuarial projection software and implementation of coding changes and/or parameterization.
- Cooperate on projects related to product development and sales application development.

What do you need for this job?

- University education(mathematical/statistical).
- Basic pricing principles.
- English level B2.
- Knowledge of SQL and working with databases in an advantage.

Why choose us?

- We are a stable international company with Dutch background and an excellent position on the Czech financial market.
- We offer above-standard employee benefits.
- We have pleasant offices located in the centre of Prague 5 (Anděl).
- We respect autonomy – everyone can take part in important decisions.

Contact:

- vladimir.dvorak@nn.cz
- tel. 725 559 288